

The Cleveland Regional Oral History Project

A Project of the Center for Public History + Digital Humanities at Cleveland State University

By signing this form, I hereby authorize the Center for Public History + Digital Humanities at Cleveland State University (hereinafter referred to as CPHDH) to record my voice, appearance, and any physical or digital materials presented at the time of this interview (hereinafter collectively referred to as the interview).

I further understand that the following items may be created from this interview:

- audio, video or other image recordings
- descriptive metadata (e.g., a transcript, abstract or log)
- additional copies of any of the above
- edited or derivative versions of any of the above

I agree that CPHDH shall retain all rights of use and ownership of this interview in perpetuity. CPHDH agrees to distribute this interview under the terms of a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 3.0 Unported License (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/>). This means that the public may freely use, copy, modify, and share these items for non-commercial purposes under the same terms, if they include the original source information. I hereby release CPHDH from any and all liability arising from my participation in this project.

Informed Consent

While oral history interviews generally do not subject participants to risks substantially greater than in everyday life, I recognize that the information I share could generate negative consequences for myself and others. I agree to share only information that I believe can safely be shared with the general public. I understand that participation in this project is voluntary, and that I may withdraw at any time without negative consequences.
